Mr. Lempenau asked Ms. Clement if she had phoned Mr. Collins regarding the discussion at the June 20, 2018, meeting. Ms. Clement said she had not called Mr. Collins because after speaking with Mr. Shattles, she understood that the district does not require a culvert. Ms. Clement said that the culvert was purchased because she was told at the time, that the culvert was necessary for the District's irrigation purposes. Mr. Lempenau said that he thought the culvert was put in for Mr. Collins to drive over and that ECDD does not drive over the culvert. Mr. Lempenau said ECDD needs the culvert for water to flow through. Mr. Newlin said that he thinks the district is okay right now because Mr. Shattles had told him the culvert had blown itself out.

Mr. Newlin stated that he thought that phoning Mr. Collins, right now, would be the right thing to do and by calling Mr. Collins, ECDD can let him know that it had already been watching the culvert and even purchased a new culvert to install if the current one could not be cleaned out to allow water to flow, thereby becoming an emergency. Ms. Clement said that the Florida Association of Special Districts has said that several Districts have already been sued over this issue.

Ms. Clement said that she sent the District's IT company all of the specifications the website must contain, according to various memorandums from FASD, and they said that they can perform most of the requirements, but not all. They indicated that the District must make each piece of paper that is uploaded to its website, accessible to disabled individuals. Ms. Clement said that the cost for the IT Company is going to be at least $600.00, which will be divided between four districts.

Ms. Clement said that our staff is diligently contacting other districts, FASD, and anyone who has the knowledge to explain to our staff, how to make the documents the District uploads, readable by disabled individuals. Ms. Clement said that she did put a message on the website's home page, indicating that the District is updating its website to be compliant. Ms. Clement said that she asked the District's attorney, Mr. Lewis if all the current information on the website must be retrofitted, and he said no.

Ms. Clement stated that she and staff will continue to seek the solution, and will stay in touch with Mr. Newlin for approval to purchase the necessary software.
